PROBABLE CAUSE STATEMENT

The complainant states that Erika RESENDIZ de Soria is a citizen of a country other than the United States; that said alien has admitted she is deportable; that her testimony is material; that it is impracticable to secure her attendance at trial by subpoena; and that she is a material witness in relation to this criminal charge and should be held or admitted to bail pursuant to Title 18, United States Code, Section 3144.

On March 19 2008, at approximately 2215 hours, Guillermo LOPEZ-Daniel (Defendant), applied for admission to the United States through the vehicle primary lanes of the San Ysidro, California Port of Entry. Defendant was the driver of a 1997 Mercury sedan bearing Baja California, Mexico license plates when a Customs and Border Protection (CBP) Narcotics/Human Detector Dog (N/HDD) alerted to the vehicle. Defendant gave a CBP Officer two negative customs declarations, claimed ownership of the vehicle and stated his intention of traveling to San Ysidro, California. The CBP Officer noticed visible alterations to the gasoline tank of the vehicle and also smelled a strong odor of gasoline emanating from inside the vehicle. The CBP Officer referred the Defendant and the vehicle to secondary for further inspection.

In secondary, a female was discovered concealed inside a non-factory compartment in the area where the gasoline tank would be normally located. CBP Officers removed the rear bench seat of the vehicle and assisted the female from the compartment. The female was determined to be a citizen of Mexico without legal documents to enter the United States and is now identified as Erika RESENDIZ de Soria (Material Witness).

During a videotaped interview, Defendant was advised of his Miranda rights and elected to answer questions without an attorney present. Defendant admitted knowledge of the concealed undocumented person in compartment of the vehicle. Defendant admitted he was to be paid $300.00 to smuggle the Material Witness into the United States. Defendant stated he was to take the vehicle and the Material Witness to Chula Vista, California.

A videotaped interview was conducted with the Material Witness. Material Witness admitted she is a citizen of Mexico by virtue of her birth in Queretaro, Mexico. Material Witness admitted she does not have legal documents or entitlements to enter the United States. Material Witness stated that she was to pay $2,500 USD to be smuggled into the United States. Material Witness admitted she was going to Escondido, California to resume residency and seek employment.
